DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. New formal drawings are required in this application because the current submitted drawing does not give a clear depiction of the claimed apparatus, Figures 1-4.
4. Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the induction surface for the external field as stated in claim 2 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The phrase "approximately equal" in claim 2 is a relative term, which renders the claim indefinite. The phrase "approximately equal" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Willyoung U.S. Patent 3118015.

Willyoung in Figure 1 an armature bar (1) with a plurality of strands (shrouds) (AA) arranged on top and next to each other. An active part (2, 3, & 4) extending alongside the stator laminated core, with the active part attached to the end windings (EW). The active part (2,3, & 4) comprises of a slot portion (central middle portion) (2) connecting to two end portions (border zones) (3 & 4) of equal lengths. Furthermore, Willyoung discloses the transposed method of the strands

(2) of the armature bar as depicted by the Robel bar in the active part (2,3, &4), and that the strands of the end portions (3 &4) extend parallel to each other without transporting to each other. In Figure 5, Willyoung illustrates that the strands (a" and e") in the slot portions (2) have a ratio of 0.75.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Willyoung U.S. Patent 3118015.

Willyoung in Figure 5 discloses an armature bar, in which the strands (a" and e") in the slot portions (2) have a ratio of 0.75.

Willyoung discloses the claimed invention except for the range of the induction surface for the external field being approximately equal to the corresponding induction surface in the end winding. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to approximate the induction surface of the external field to the induction surface of the end windings, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233. -
